

24 NOVEMBER 2023: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dear Parents and Carers,

After six weeks of competition and the longest final in history, I am delighted to inform you that Charlie eventually prevailed over Tilda and has been crowned the Truro School Prep Conker Competition Champion for 2023.

With this momentous news out of the way, I can now focus on the myriad of events that have taken place over the past five days. First and foremost, the academic focus has been on Prep School assessments. It is true to say that some of the children have surprised themselves in that they actually enjoyed the experience!

Outside of the classroom, the drama and music departments have been hives of activity as they prepare for the end of term and Christmas events; please be sure to check the Bulletin calendar carefully as such dates will soon be upon us.

This week has also been busy on the sporting front with all manner of fixtures and galas taking place. The undoubted highlight of the sporting calendar was Wednesday's rugby festival, hosted here at Trelliske, which saw some 200 children in action and an equal number of spectators on the touchlines.

Assemblies this week have focused upon 'The Golden Rule': namely 'do unto others as you would have them do unto you' and the equivalent message throughout many of the world's faiths. This led us to explore the importance of respecting and caring for others, engaging with other people and the etiquette that surrounds this.

Continuing on a similar theme, we were treated to an excellent demonstration of how to shake hands (remembering that eye contact is essential and that it should not take place in silence!) and we also explored the value of common courtesies and saying thank you.

Of course, the various sporting fixtures gave us the chance to practise such civilities and we were provided with further opportunities by the numerous guests who visited the School over the week. Over the past five days, we have welcomed spectators, governors, staff from the Senior School, the Head of the Senior School, the CEO of Cornwall Wildlife Trust and a representative from Tatler Magazine. It is fair to say that there are distinct signs of improvement in terms of our etiquette and manners although this is still very much a work in progress.

On the topic of visiting, I take this opportunity to remind you of some forthcoming events. Of course, the Bulletin Calendar on the following page contains detailed information on all proceedings, but these occasions below provide a particular opportunity for us to come together as a community:

- Friday, 8 December 3pm - Friends of Truro School Christmas Fête
- Monday 11 December 6:30pm at Truro Methodist Church - 'Nadelik Lowen' A Cornish Christmas concert
- Thursday, 14 December 7pm at the Cathedral - A Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols

I do hope that you will be able to join us at some or all of these events.

In the meantime, I thank you as always for your support and for lending us your children throughout the week.

With every good wish,

Mr Rob Morse
Headmaster

Messages from Prep First Aid

A couple of medical reminders, with various illnesses circulating.

1. Sickness/Diarrhoea

It is our policy that children must stay at home until a clear 48 hours have passed since the last episode of vomiting or diarrhoea. We would like to avoid the spread as much as possible, so appreciate your cooperation with this.

2. Colds, Coughs & Sore Throats

It's that time of year when most of us are fending off some sort of cold or sore throat. We encourage the children to come into school as long as they do not have a temperature and are well enough to concentrate. If you have given your child Calpol before they come in and would like us to administer a second dose during the school day, please pick up a permission form from the Reception Office or ask us to email one over to you. Any medicine dropped into us must be in its original packaging, named and handed in for the attention of Mrs Cameron (Medical Care Lead) please.

3. Water

A reminder that all children should bring in a named water bottle daily please. I have so many children sent to me with headaches who admit they have not drunk enough water, so I would really appreciate your ongoing help with stressing the importance of keeping hydrated to fend off the bugs!

If you have any questions or concerns, please get in touch with our Medical Care Lead, Mrs Cameron:
prepfirstaid@truroschoo.com

Christmas Cards

Children in the Prep School are invited to share Christmas cards with each other. We will have a central post box at the front of school, outside the main office. The cards will then be sorted and handed out towards the end of term.

Please ensure that full names, including surnames, are written on the envelopes as well as the form that the child is in. Last posting day will be Tuesday 12 December.

Christmas Fayre

Please start bringing in donations of sweet-filled jam jars, chocolate for the chocolate tombola, books and soft toys ahead of this year's Christmas Fayre on the Friday 8 December.

All proceeds will go to Children's Hospice South West. With thanks from the FTS Team.

Toys for Cornwall

As an alternative (or addition) we would like to invite you to consider buying an extra toy or two for a child in Cornwall who might otherwise not have gifts to open on Christmas morning.

This is a project that Truro Methodist Church have been involved with for a while and last year they provided gifts for 300 children living in Cornwall.

If you would like to buy a new toy for any child between the ages of 6 months to 16 years, we would be very happy to pass these on to Truro Methodist Church on your behalf to support with their work.

Many thanks in advance for your generosity, help and support in making these charitable ventures successful.

Year 6 Activity Day

Learning Cornish, identifying local marine life, and making Cornish fairings were some of the highlights from this year's Year 6 activity day held at Truro School to give prospective pupils a flavour of life at the Senior School.

The 90 children attending were split into eight groups, named after local beaches. They took part in three of the eight activities on offer which included seaweed printing in art, Cornish holidays gone wrong in drama, and a lesson inspired by the future of space travel in Cornwall with Physics.

After a morning of making new friends and challenging themselves to try new things, the Year 6 pupils had worked up an appetite. The catering department put on a delicious spread of Cornish-inspired foods featuring classic Cornish pasties, local sausages, and Cornish cupcakes.

The final activity of the day saw all the children come together for an afternoon of sport in a Pirates of Truro team game; working together in their groups the children tried to collect as much treasure as possible.

Curiosity in the Classroom

Curiosity is at the heart of learning, and with a wide range of subjects on offer pupils are always trying new things.

Year 5 have been testing out their creativity skills in ceramics, creating handmade butterflies adorned with colourful paints.

Meanwhile, our Year 6 class are currently enjoying learning the basics of German with Mrs Palmer. Languages are an important part of learning, with children having the opportunity to learn French, Spanish, and German from the Pre-Prep.

Magical Preparations for Year 5 Play

Rehearsals are well underway for this year's Year 5 play of 'The Late Wise Man'. The children have been working really hard, practicing their lines, learning songs, and choreographing dances.

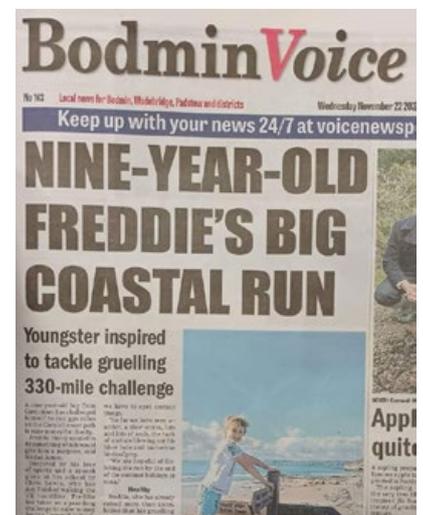

We look forward to seeing the finished play next week and hope to see lots of Year 5 families there too.

Freddie's Fantastic Feat

A huge well done to Freddie S who is running a whopping 330 miles of the Cornish coast path to raise money for the Cornwall Wildlife Trust.

What a fantastic celebration of sport at our U11 rugby festival!

A huge thank you to Mount Kelly, Truro High, St Hillary's, Plymouth College, and Exeter School for joining us for the afternoon.

The children took part in lots of mini-games focussing on improving their skills and gameplay throughout. It was wonderful to see the group's confidence grow as they progressed through the afternoon; scoring lots of excellent tries as well.

TRURO SCHOOL COOKERY

Cookery Classes

Bookings Now Open to Spring 2024!

Our Cookery Classes are now available to book up to Spring 2024, with some exciting new classes added.

There are parent and child classes, classes for 2 (an ideal opportunity to catch up with a friend or family member over some delicious food, a cookery lesson and a glass or two of wine) and there are also day classes available for those who want to maximise their skills.

For a full list of our new classes, check out the Truro School Cookery website > www.truroschoolcookery.com

www.truroschoolcookery.com

Our first adult and child Mexican cookery class went fantastically earlier this month. Students learnt how to make their own corn tortillas from scratch, a spicy and smokey chicken tinga and corn 'esquites' (a charred fresh corn salsa).

We've opened up another couple of tickets for our American Diner class on 9th December where students will be learning, amongst other things, how to make 'Sloppy Joes', blueberry pancakes and ice cream sodas.

Because of the success and popularity of these adult & child classes, we've added 3 new ones to the schedule here in the Cookery School; tapas, pasta and sushi and gyoza. Book now to avoid disappointment!

These classes offer the perfect occasion for a parent, guardian, carer or family friend to spend some quality time with a young person whilst the two of you learn some new cookery skills in a fun and informal setting.

A full list of courses can be found at <https://www.truroschoolcookery.com/cookery-courses-cornwall/>
