5 MARCH 2021: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Love is...

Love is a journey, as is education. Love is... our story. Love is... enjoying the simple things. Which we've all learnt to appreciate that little bit more in these peculiar times.

"When love is in our school it is the most wonderful place I can imagine."

5 MARCH 2021: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

There were many DT projects going on this week including fidget spinners and kites (which flew!).

This week Year 4 finished off their Perranporth topic by learning about human geography. They looked at maps and how the physical and human geography of Perranporth might influence the town as a tourist destination. They were tasked to create their own tourist posters or leaflets to attract future visitors to the area.

5 MARCH 2021: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

World Book Day 2021

We would usually celebrate World Book Day and our love of reading on 4 March. Some pupils will be 'tipping their caps' to this exciting, annual event in their English lessons already. However, we have decided to save our celebrations until 26 March when we are all finally back in school together.

Like last year, all pupils (and staff!) are invited to dress up as their favourite character from a book or story. If you need some inspiration for home made costumes, then you can find some fantastic ideas on the 'Show your shares' link below or last year's photographs. We hope to see as many pupils as possible embracing this chance to bring some much-needed humour and vibrance back to the playground. There will be various other World Book Day activities taking place throughout the day for the pupils to enjoy.

All of the pupils will receive £1 book token which they can swap at local booksellers for a free World Book Day book. You can preview all of the available titles here.

Book donations

Reading is a gift that we can all share freely, so this year, we are asking for donations of any good quality books (All ages) that could be given to local charities. If you are able to donate a book, it would be lovely if you could complete a Truro School Prep plaque and glue it into the front of the book. You could write about why you love the book, or perhaps share your favourite quote from the book so as to inspire the next reader. As we will need to quarantine the books, they can be brought into school from March 8-26. There will be a box outside the library for any donations. Thank you in advance.

Competitions

Every week during World Book Day month The Book Trust will award prizes for the best story shares with a different theme each week, for you to have fun with at home. If you do enter, please do share your photographs with us as well.

Competition Week 2 (1-7 March)

Bringing Books To Life – this week we want you to show us how you bring your favourite books to life. Are you reading together with a potato or wooden spoon transformed into your favourite book character, or with your favourite book in a bottle or shoe box? Or, are you reading dressed up like someone from a book? Let your imagination run wild!

Free audiobooks

You can enjoy free audiobooks at home up until March the 28th. There are many wonderful stories to inspire our youngest to oldest readers.

WEEK 7 HALL OF FAME

Final totals will be announced next week!

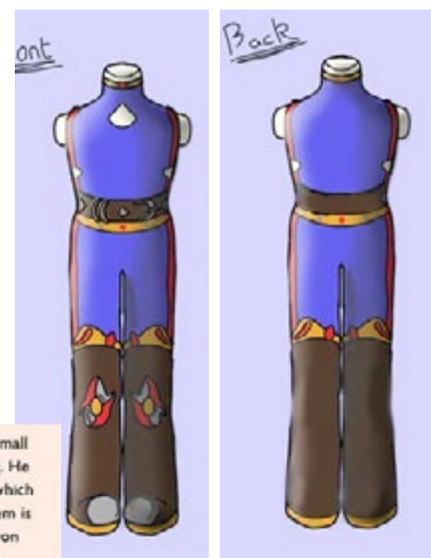

Athena & Talos

Athena has the power to manipulate all of the transition metals. she had this power since she was six and has been refining and it openly since.

She made her claymore out of iron and uses it and battle and as an easy way of transport as she can make the sword float with her on it.

Talos is Athena's sidekick (great joke I know). He became Athena's best friend when she rescued him from a flood.

Talos is suprisingly strong for his small size, being able to lift up to 500 kg. He can also display holographic maps which are quite helpful. One small problem is that he is always carrying a small iron cube and cries if seperated from it.
